

License Policy

PRODUCTION GUIDES

Client - is an application thin client of 3-layer architecture and is used for data management. The client is completely free. It serves as a demonstration (DEMO) of functionality when connecting to our server at <http://109.164.71.204:5000> It is the full version of the client for the Server, where you need to change the address in the settings to your installed server. The client includes the FREEWARE reporting tool FYIReporting.

Reporting – The client includes a reporting tool FYI Reporting. It includes a viewer for displaying reports and a designer for creating your own new reports. It is completely free. The creation of reports is not limited in any way.

Server – is a secure Backend server with a 3-layer architecture and serves as a Backend Server for working with database data. With each purchased license, you can install 1 Backend Server with an unlimited number of clients. The server provides a number of security configurations.

Projects – are complete projects of the Backend server and the Application client for further own development of the given server/application. The purchase of 1 license applies to 1 Instance of the Backend server. To install multiple identical or modified instances, the same number of licenses must be purchased.

Updates – the client has a general update address set. These updates are completely free
Or you can order any modification, customization, for which you will be given a new address for updates.

Cooperation - we are open to any cooperation, we have a distribution program with a 20% commission on turnover.

When you purchase 1 license, you will receive 1 code to install the purchased version of the Server Installation. The Installation itself will provide you with everything you need according to the selected variant:

- Project database
- Server installation
- Installation of project archives

Price list

Application client	free
Backend Server	5000 Kč / 200Euro
Server with projects for development	15 000Kč / 600Euro
Ordered work	750Kč/30Euro /Hour

Violation of the License Rights is punishable under the applicable laws of the country of origin and is legally enforceable. By any custom modification of the projects, you lose the guarantee of functionality. Further License Agreement is based on the general rules for the purchased product.